

BDO gives love and Piolo on Christmas Day

Piolo Pascual, one of the country's top-rate actors and TV personalities, and the face of BDO Remit, has yet again proven his incomparable charisma when he joined BDO in the first-ever "Pamaskong Handog para sa mga OFW" event last December. Bringing in Piolo in The Mall of Asia and SM Southmall was just one of surprises prepared by BDO for the OFWs. The bigger one was the giving away of P10,000 worth of Noche Buena package by BDO to each of 92 lucky winners.

Attendees were treated to an afternoon of entertainment, raffle extravaganza and free salu-salo at SM Foodcourt to give thanks and show appreciation to OFWs and beneficiaries who maintain a BDO Kabayan Savings Account specially designed for OFWs and their beneficiaries.

Pamaskong Handog happened simultaneously in all 46 SM Supermalls all over the country. OFWs and beneficiaries who participated and won prizes during the event were delighted for the recognition that BDO gave them.

"I feel special that BDO and SM have given importance to OFWs like me and to our families," one prizewinner named Marissa T. Saberón from Davao City said.

Jane Carreon thanks BDO for its efforts to make OFWs like her happy.

Piolo Pascual serenades the OFWs and their families.

Attendees enjoy the variety show.

BDO hosts parlor games like Bring Me.

Anita Malabana receives her P10,000 worth of gift certificates from BDO remittance endorser Piolo Pascual.

OFWs and their families are welcomed during the event.

Guests are entertained by young violinists.

OFWs and beneficiaries open BDO Kabayan Savings Accounts at the BDO booth.

